Edition 19

For residents from all corners of Newcourt:

Dear Newcourt resident

One of the best ways to overcome hardship is to lean on family, friends, neighbours and community. But the pandemic made that difficult. You may have been isolating at home all alone, and social distancing meant you were unable to do things. Whatever your situation, life hasn't been easy.

On the positive side, perhaps you started a new hobby, pursued a new interest and found ways to get by. It's okay if you started to feel hopelessness creep in, though. The first step to dealing with anxiety, stress, or other feelings is to acknowledge them, as to lose patience is to lose the battle.

In spite of the pandemic, a lot has been going on here in Newcourt. We have seen regular litter picks, the Green Fingers project starting, McMillan cake sale, setting up LYN boxes, defibrillator awareness and training, and the formation of Seabrook Orchards Residents' Group (SORG) - see page 4.

At the Community Festival in September, the Northcott Theatre team and others made a great contribution. And some younger residents have joined Northcott Young Company.

Youth provision has been a concern for many residents, with various efforts since 2012. One of our trustees, Judy Cretney, has worked hard liaising with SPACE, Voice, and YMCA to recruit a youth worker, start a Twilight café - with pizza, games and a safe space for people to hang out. Judy says "We are so close to getting this going!"

See page 3 for how you could help.

At the Community Association AGM on November 1st, we had Q&As with our councillors Keith Sparkes and Andrew Leadbetter who noted many concerns from residents. There will be a community update with those points we recorded, and agreed actions. Look out for this as I want to give you the opportunity to speak up.

We said 'goodbye and thank you' to Hayley Denham, who has been Community Centre Manager since it opened in July 2014. Hayley has maintained this fantastic space, and bookings are better than ever. Moving forward, we are discussing the best approach to managing the Centre. Let us know your ideas or suggestions.

I am sad to report that one of our trustees, Nick Postlethwaite passed away in June. Nick had been campaigning to get some more trees planted in Newcourt. Trees are being planted now (see page 6) with a plaque to commemorate Nick.

I must say a huge public thank you to two amazing people, Ken and Judy Cretney who have done so much for our community. I can only wish them all the best as they move to Scotland in the New Year.

Thanks too to Karen Silcox who has joined the NCA as Project Officer. She says "We have the opportunity to build back stronger in: i) the provision of a community facility, ii) building community connections and iii) campaigning about community infrastructure.

Newcourt is a great place to live because ordinary people like you get involved. Read opportunities in this edition. Perhaps you could even be a trustee? All that is needed is a monthly meeting, (usually first Wednesday evening - with tea & coffee & biscuits). Come to a meeting and see if it's something you'd enjoy.

Best wishes for Christmas and the New Year!

Richard

LYN Love Your Neighbour community food boxes

Filled with surplus food items from local supermarkets by community volunteers...

LYN Box 1 is in the right side passage of Newcourt

Community Centre, behind the high brick wall. LYN Box 2 is at Trinity School - left of main door.

Food collections are deposited daily in the boxes. Daily updates are put on the LYN Facebook Group with photographs, and occasionally on Trinity Facebook Group.

On Sundays and Mondays there is usually chilled food - offered in short time slots for residents to collect. For more information about when and where, see facebook - LYN Newcourt, Exeter; www.trinityexeter.com or contact info@trinityexeter.com

As it says on the box lid: 'Whatever your reason, please help yourself and in turn, help minimise food waste.'

LYN volunteers do their best to remove any items that go past their 'use by' date. Please follow advice on the box to check all products before consumption. Any items taken at your own risk.

The benefits of getting involved

"I have spent a lot of time at home over the last year with only a toddler and infant for company." Newcourt resident, Becca recalls. "My husband was working, and I was made redundant just before giving birth to our second child in September. I have found this period very lonely and isolating. I absolutely love being a mum; but it's noisy, messy, frenetic, and at times, thankless.

So when I saw the request in Newcourt News for volunteers to help with the Newcourt Festival, I put my name forward. (To be honest, I thought I might be able to get out of the chaos of bedtime routine a few times!)

I am so pleased I did. It was a breath of fresh air to get out, meet some new people, talk about anything other than children and use my brain again. I met a delightful group of people, all with different life experiences and interests. I really enjoyed the few evenings as part of the planning process, as well as volunteering on the day.

I would definitely recommend to anyone who feels a bit lonely, needs a break or quite fancies a chat about something new, to get involved in any future events... but I didn't get out of bedtimes!"

If Becca's story encourages you to get involved, contact events@newcourtca.org.uk

Newcourt Youth group???

Over the last year, positive steps have been made towards a Newcourt youth group.

Talks are ongoing to support this initiative between local youth organisations and the NCA to provide a youth leader.

The NCA will help subsidise this. But to achieve it, we also need committed volunteers to help run a weekly youth café on a rota basis.

Could you help once a month, or once a fortnight, or be involved in any way?

If so, please contact: trustees@newcourtca.org.uk

Community

Harula & Chris Spork! Poetry

This is our community
Full of raffles and smiles
Stories and laughter
Pantomime style happy-ever-afters

Community is like a dog
You have to feed it all the time
With sports, crochet, photography
It's yours, it's ours, it's mine

Sometimes it runs
Sometimes it sits
Sometimes you clean up after it

Community is quiet space
And places to be loud
To make a difference, make the tea
And make each other proud

Community means everyone
No matter age or where you're from

It doesn't happen overnight
These are the small seeds that we sow
But we will wait, and if we're right
Eventually our seeds will grow

Seabrook Orchards

Seabrook Orchards Residents Group (SORG) is now up and running.

The newly elected SORG Committee

This new group, linked to Newcourt Community Association, was formally constituted in September. We came together to represent residents at this important phase of the development.

Our mailing list has grown to 125 households, and via our regular mailings we seek to provide residents with a place to raise concerns and to share updates and news.

It is our intention to encourage creative dialogue between the various parties involved on the site and ensure the residents have a voice.

High on our list of priorities is understanding the timeframes and responsibilities relating to the communal 'managed areas' in the Seabrook plans, including the streamside walk, children's play areas, the M5 sound barrier, sports pitches, allotments, overhead power lines and Seabrook Square.

Related to this are the arrangements for the annual rent charge payable by Seabrook property owners to cover communal management costs.

If you are a Seabrook Orchards resident and not already on our mailing list, we would love to hear from you.

To join the group and receive updates from the group, send your details to Andrew Sails on rev.andrew.sails@gmail.com

HONEY BEES!

One's first sighting of honey bees swarming, totally filling the air with their movement and noise, is an awesome event.

However, it is in the public's best interest to inform a local beekeeper (bbka.org.uk/swarm) at the earliest sign of a swarm. This is the natural method of reproduction. The bees will have gorged themselves on honey

Swarm of honey bees on a cherry tree in Newcourt before the older foragers take the old queen with them to find a new site, and they will be very docile and easy to re-home.

If left to their own devices, they will find themselves an entrance to your chimney, loft, cavity wall, etc and begin to devalue your home. Since honey is hygroscopic (absorbs water), the one question you must complete when selling a property is whether it has ever had honey bees in it.

Other visitors to your gardens, and the earliest in the spring, are tree bumblebees, which love your bird boxes to make a nest in. These are lovely pollinating creatures, but not always welcome, and if they have time, beekeepers will often take them away for you. They will all die off in August, so you may enjoy their company for the summer.

Of all the bees, bumblebees and wasps, the honey bees are the only species that exist as a colony over the winter, and have sufficient numbers to pollinate our fruit trees in the spring.

If you are interested in bee-keeping, Exeter Beekeepers are running a Beginners' Course at Newcourt Community Centre over six evenings in February and March.

Trees for Jack Sadler Way

Julie Smith & Judy Cretney have liaised with Jack Sadler Way residents to plant young trees and shrubs in memory of Nick Postlethwaite (Newcourt resident and previous trustee). Nick was keen to improve the environment here.

The trees & shrubs will be planted from 1.30pm on Saturday 27th November.

If they're not all planted that day, the planting will be completed on 4th December from 1.30pm.

If you can join in, bring a spade or fork. (there will be some spares.)

What is the heart of Christmas?

There are many good things that make Christmas special: presents, shopping, lights, carols, family, food, time off work, a sense of community and people going out of their way for one another.

Would it still be Christmas if you took one or all of these things away? If you lost your taste buds because of Covid, or the family visit was cancelled, or the presents that you ordered didn't arrive, or Tesco ran out of turkeys, would it rob you of Christmas joy?

It would certainly make us appreciate the things we often take for granted.

I remember when I was due to go to my mum's for Christmas but was very ill with a virus. I stayed at my brother's flat on my own as my siblings travelled without me. I was left with no company, no presents and no appetite.

But I could remember one key thing: the Christmas meal, the family get-together and the gifts we give each other are all reminders of an even greater gift.

The heart of Christmas is that God gave his son Jesus Christ to be our Saviour. Christmas is named after him! Jesus spoke of God inviting us to a feast, a party, a family celebration. After a year of uncertainty, isolation and sadness, we certainly need some good news and a reason to celebrate!

We invite you to come to Trinity Church to celebrate Christmas. There are carol services on Sunday the 19th, on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. For details, check out www.trinityexeter.com

 Newcourt Community Builder

People often ask me if I work for a new-build company, or know about loft conversions!

My role as Newcourt Community Builder is to help residents connect and care for each other, give back to their local place, learn and share new ideas and stay active with people here in the ideas that interest them.

I'm looking for some neighbours who want to meet for a cuppa, or go for a walk and share ideas about what they think Newcourt community is interested in and values. I also want to keep connecting like-minded people and keep the momentum of growth and resourcing happening.

Community Building isn't a solo act; it's about a diverse group of neighbours giving a bit of their knowledge, skills, talent and time to the people and place around them, to share, hold and build this strong community!

Drop me an email at newcourtcba@eci.org.uk or text 07902 119083. I would love to hear from you.

The UK will have spent £500 million on Halloween. That's an average of £9 per person. This is equal to the total amount the UK is donating to help poorer countries with Covid vaccines.

It's been another tough year for everyone, with many continuing to feel isolated and lonely. With the festive season upon us, it's the time of year to look forward to hosting and meeting our friends and family.

To make it even more special with those loved ones, IKEA Exeter are hosting a number of family activities in-store including...

Visiting Santa (dates between 27th November & 1st December);

Pop up Panto (from 4th & 5th December); and Carols at IKEA (16th December) with local choirs and the Exeter Salvation Army Band.

Our Christmas range and gift card are available now, plus the Christmas tree offer returns. And as part of our sustainable commitment to reduce waste and re-use, take advantage of our IKEA furniture buy-back scheme. Ikea Family members can take advantage of an enhanced offer in November, just in time to clear the way for new Christmas presents to arrive. See our website for more details.

Christmas Tree Offer:

Buy a Christmas tree from IKEA for £29 and receive a £20 voucher, which can be redeemed in participating IKEA stores between 10th January and 13th February 2022. Trees on sale from 22nd November, whilst stocks last.

Trinity School

Each September our school gets bigger. In September 2017, when we first opened we had just 16 pupils and five members of staff. This year we have over 300 pupils and 50 members of staff!

Although now a larger primary school, we will always work hard to ensure that we maintain our family ethos. The whole team work extremely hard to get to know all the children, and take time to help them feel happy, safe and secure.

Our school character values (forgiveness, generosity, compassion, responsibility, joy and courage) are a crucial part of pupils' education. Each term we focus on a different one. This term we have concentrated on Generosity.

To make this practical, we have taken part again in Operation Christmas Child - filling shoe-boxes with Christmas gifts for children who have very little - in regions like Sub-Saharan Africa, Eastern Europe and Central Asia.

At Trinity School we are grateful for the support of Friends of Trinity School (FoTS), who raise funds through enjoyable events like quiz nights and again for this year, a Christmas Fair.

We are also thankful to the parents, governors, friends, Newcourt locals who meet once a month on zoom to pray (talk to God) for the school staff and children. Prayer is a life-line for us at Trinity, and at the heart of everything we do.
